

Q: Who is a historical woman that you admire?

A: Every woman who I have met along my journey. For me, every woman has created some history in her own way which is totally admirable. Whether or not they are on the history books or pages, they all fascinate me and encourage me.

Q: What do you love about your job?

A: My job is demanding with renewed challenges but amidst such high-pressure work environment where client satisfaction is paramount, the adrenaline rush when I win a matter or contest a matter is what I love the most...

Q: What career achievement are you most proud of?

A: Every victory for my client is an achievement for me. That I am one of the industry leaders in my practice area and my clients consider me as their go-to lawyer is perhaps my biggest achievement. I am most particularly proud of mentoring young lawyers who have excelled and are well recognised lawyers today. Also contributing to society by doing pro bono work keeps me going.

Q: What does success mean to you?

A: Success means being able to uphold all my virtues and principles and be able to impart them to my team and colleagues. Being successful also means being trusted by the people I work with and work for. It is the evolution from a raw law school pass-out to being a practice leader and a mentor to being a lawyer whose views are valued and recognized is what being successful means to me.

Q: What's a small thing everyone can do to embrace equity?

A: I think one small step is to introduce a sense of equity and equality in the growing up years. It should all start from homes. This small step can change the whole ecosystem in the most positive way.
